Education Without Borders (EWB) is a biennial international student conference that creates networks across cultures in order to understand, and generate solutions for, some of the world's greatest challenges. The conference achieves this end by engaging the world's most innovative students and leaders in the business, technology, education and humanitarian sector in a collaborative forum that culminates in a commitment to action.

Education Without Borders, which began in April 2001 hosting 210 students from 47 countries, has become a unique global community that brought together 2000 delegates from over 110 countries for EWB 2009. Now it is time for the sixth conference, EWB 2011, where we will continue to imbue participants with new ideas, new friendships, and the sense that each of us has the power to effect positive changes in the world.

DELEGATES TO EWB 2011 WILL EXPERIENCE:

- An event that will change how they think about the world
- The power of networking with like-minded students and pre-eminent leaders from around the globe
- A clear view of the latest developments in technology, education and sustainable development
- The ability to listen to, and speak with, some of the world's leading experts
- The opportunity to enter lively debates and engage in discussions with facilitators.
